MOVING IN SCOTLAND

ON MAY 28 OCCURS THE ANNUAL CARNIVAL OF "FLITTING."

One Day in Each Year When Furniture Vans and Chaos Reign Supreme—An Odd System, Built Up on the Caution of the Landlords.

In Scotland May 28 is annually given over to a perfect carnival of "flitting."

In England houses of the higher rents are taken by the year at any quarter day and the lower rented ones by the month or even by the week. The flitting is thus spread over the year, and no confusion arises. The Scottish system is to let houses by the year from May 28. Even the smallest, consisting of only one room, are so let. On the great day in any large town the rights afforded range from the laughable to the pathetic.

As soon as it is daylight the vans previously "lrysted" begin their work; the goods are loaded up with more haste than care and to the accompaniment of the good housewife's lamentations as some cherished household good is roughly flung into the van.

Arrived at the destination, further troubles are in store. Perhaps the new house is not yet vacated, and, as the van is required for other removals, the goods are dumped down in the street, and there the poor family is left stranded for the time. Occasionally some streets—in Glasgow, for instance—present an appearance of wholesale evictions.

So numerous are the demands that vans cannot always be obtained, and every kind of vehicle, including horseless carriages, are popularly known as "hurleys," are pressed into the service, supplemented by father, mother and the children, each carrying pictures, mirrors or other cherished articles too precious to trust to the tender mercies of some ramshackle conveyance.

These processions are moving along all day. The representative of law and order, upon this day at least, is very lenient, his gruff "Move on!" is less in evidence, and his ready "Look gets a rest. There are no 'cases' of obstruction reported, although often loaded vans have to remain in a street all night.

It may be that the "polsman" grasps the humors of the situation, or perhaps a fellow feeling influences him. No doubt his own flitting is in progress, and he retires off duty to some strange abode, to assist in carrying in his goods, to sup off a crust of bread and cheese and sleep on the floor, as others have to do.

A stranger naturally inquires the cause of this one day given over to chaos. It is to be found in the caution of the Scottish landlord. It is difficult to obtain a house at any other time than the lawful removal day, and the canny-house owner has prudently secured his rent a fortnight previously, May 15.

"Moonlight" flittings are thus practically unknown, and there is little loss of rent from that cause. The rents being payable half yearly only, the cost of collection is reduced, as is the risk of loss, to a minimum. The system entails great hardship to workingmen compelled to change the scene of their labors. They frequently cannot obtain a house until term day and have consequently to take lodgings and support their family in another town.

If fortunate enough to obtain a house, the landlord steps in and requires his full year's rent to be paid or deposited in bank before he allows the goods to be removed. The unfortunate head of a household is also responsible for the full year's rates of his "new" house, although he may have paid in full at his vacated house.

The only advantage to the tenant is security of tenure for twelve months and the certainty of being accommodated at the expiry in the general scramble, of course it happens sometimes, through new houses being erected, that some one is able to start the ball rolling a day or two before term, to the comfort of all involved in the particular circuit; but, generally speaking, May term day in Scotland is not an institution to be admired and copied.

Strange to say, Sandy not only takes this day philosophically, but is much more addicted to "flitting" than people south of the Tweed, some families moving regularly every year without any apparent necessity. One would scarcely expect the worry and discomfort of the day and succeeding temporary chaos to be voluntarily undertaken, but the fact is so.

The continuance of the system itself is a standing monument to the British long suffering and law abiding nature.—Pearson's Weekly.

THE HUMBLE HAIRPIN.

You Thought You Knew Its Many Uses, but There Are Others.

The comprehensive merits of the hairpin are known to all observant men. Its special value in surgery is asserted by a writer in American Medicine. It seems that a surgeon can do almost anything with a hairpin. He can wire bones with it, probe and close wounds, pin bandages, compress blood vessels, use it "to remove foreign bodies from any natural passage" and "as a curette for scraping away soft material." And no doubt the women doctors can do a great deal more with that most gifted and versatile of human implements. Anthropologists have never done justice to the hairpin. It keeps civilization together. In the hands of girls entirely great it is much mightier than the sword or, for that matter, the plow. What is the plow but a development of the forked stick, and what is the forked stick but a modification of the hairpin? If there was any necessity a woman could scratch the ground successfully with a hairpin now. In fact, there is no work or play in which something may not be accomplished by means of it.

Darlings will tell you that women aren't so inventive as men; don't take out so many patents. They don't have to. With the hairpin all that is do-able can be done. With a hairpin a woman can pick a lock, pull a cork, peel an apple, draw out a nail, beat an egg, see if a joint of meat is done, do up a baby, sharpen a pencil, dig out a silver, fasten a door, hang up a plate or picture, open a can, take up a carpet, repair a baby carriage, clean a lamp chimney, put up a curtain, make a grate fire, cut a pie, make a fork, a fishhook, an awl, a gimlet or a chisel, a paper cutter, a clothespin, regulate a range, tinker a sewing machine, stop a leak in the roof, turn over a flapjack, calk a hole in a pair of trousers, stir batter, whip cream, reduce the pressure in the gas meter, keep bills and receipts on file, spread butter, cut patterns, tighten windows, clean a watch, untie a knot, varnish floors, do practical plumbing, reduce the asthma of tobacco pipes, pry shirt studs into buttonholes, find small for them, fix a horse's harness, restore damaged mechanical toys, wrestle with refractory beer stoppers, improvise suspenders, shove bonbons, inspect gas burners, saw cake, jab tramps, produce artificial buttons, hooks and eyes; sew, knit and darn, button gloves and shoes, put up awnings, doctor an automobile. In short, she can do what she wants to do. She needs no other instrument.

If a woman went into the Robinson Crusoe line, she could build a hut and make her a coat of the skin of a goat by means of the hairpin. She will revolutionize surgery with it in time. Meanwhile the male chirurgeons are doing the best they can, but it is not to be believed that they have mastered the full mystery of the hairpin.

When Women Were Extravagant.

Such a hue and cry was raised about the extravagance of the women of our day, and yet at the court of St. James in a dress of velvet embroidered with gold, which is said to have cost no less than $1,500, Marie de Medicis had a gown worn with 32,000 pearls and 8,000 diamonds, and her example was followed by lesser personages, who cheerfully expended more than their incomes on gowns so laden with precious stones that their wearers could scarcely move about in them. Mme. de Mespaigne, the beauty who reigned at the court of Louis XIV, wore at one great court festival "a gown of gold on gold and over that gold frizze stitched with a certain gold which makes the most divine stuff that has ever been imagined," according to the panegyrics written by the pen of Mme. de Sevigne.

Old Times at the Capital.

In recalling the lively and picturesque incidents which the old times enjoyed in Washington one is moved almost to tears over the commonplace nature of his own times. John Adams used to bathe in the Potomac every morning at daylight because they had no bathtub in the White House, and one never pulled a kodak on him. President Taylor used to walk about the town and stop and chat with every one he met, like a policeman. A reception in the White House in these days is relieved of monotony only by the great crush of guests, who trample too clothes off one another's backs. Another president set up in the east room a six hundred pound cheese and invited the multitude to come in and help itself, which the multitude proceeded to do.

Distant Neptune.

The perfid of man's whole history is not sufficient for an express train to traverse half the distance to Neptune from the earth. Thought wearies and fails in seeking to grasp such distances. It can scarcely comprehend 1,000,000 miles, and here are thousands of them. When we stand on that, the outermost of the planets, the very last sentinel of the outposts of the King, the very sun grows dim and small in the distance.

A SERMON TO SUIT.

The Folks Who Paid For the Discourse Got What They Wanted.

Many Maine people who live in a certain part of Cumberland county will well remember one Abner—so he was always called in his town. Abner was the wit of the village, and he was commonly selected to take charge of funerals because he was about the only man in town who had time hanging on his hands. A citizen died, a man who never amounted to much, who was never positively wicked, because that would have required more of an effort than he was willing to make. He was, however, far enough from being a good citizen, and Abner knew it as well as anybody else.

Abner was requested to ask a certain minister to conduct the service, and he hitched up his old horse and drove to his house. The minister said he would attend and then tried to get a little information concerning the late lamented.

"What sort of a man was he?" he asked.

"Well, about the same as no sort of a man at all," replied Abner frankly.

"I suppose his loss will be deeply felt in the community?" said the minister.

"They're all bearing up well under it," said Abner slowly.

"Was he a Christian?" asked the minister.

"If he'd been accused of it, the verdict would have been not guilty and the jury wouldn't have left their seats," replied Abner cheerfully.

"Did he attend church?" asked the minister a bit anxiously.

"I never heard of his doing it," said Abner.

"How did he die?" continued the minister.

"Just the same as he lived, sort of naturally," said Abner.

"I don't see how I'm to preach much of a sermon under such circumstances," said the minister.

"The neighbors all said they didn't think they wanted much of a sermon, and so they sent me over to see you," said Abner.

The minister pocketed his wrath and a five dollar bill, and after the funeral the satisfied Abner said, "Well, we got just what we wanted, b'gosh."—Lewiston Journal.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We look to the friends of the Ledger to keep us posted concerning events of public interest happening in any part of the county. Our regular correspondents will be furnished with writing material and stamps for this purpose. Births, deaths, marriages, accidents, amusements, mining and other industrial progress, social topics, new buildings, persons leaving or coming into the county are always acceptable. Give details of important items, no matter how rough a shape. Avoid personal remarks that might give offense. Visitors from towns in the county need not be mentioned, but visitors from places beyond the county may be recorded.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

Not for many years has the promise of republican success in Amador county been so bright as now. In the republican ranks there is scarcely a ripple of discontent. The masses of the party are lined up in practically solid phalanx against the further dominance of those in power. The democrats are determined to foist themselves on the people for one more term, while mutterings of dissension and rebellion on every hand reveal a deep-seated resolve on the part of scores of those in their ranks who deem partyism subordinate to the public weal to prevent such a calamity. The efforts of the "one-termers," may be directed toward trying to foment strife in the republican ranks; but all such plans will fail. The people of Amador county are looking to the republican party to terminate the reign of ring-rule, bullying and intimidation, which has held sway so long. That controlling element in all elections—the independent voters—are anxious for relief. They love good government above everything else in politics. They want men in office who will not forget that they are servants and not masters. We trust under the circumstances, the republican party will present a ticket without a weak point in it. Such a ticket we believe the voters are prepared to indorse at the polls. They are tired of existing conditions. For good and sufficient reasons they want a change. They are alarmed at the thought of another four years of the same old worn-out song. It is discord and not melody to them. All the republican delegates have to do is to give fairly acceptable candidates, avoid strife among themselves, act true to themselves and their candidates, work with a sole purpose of winning, and the people will take care of the result.

PLEDGING DELEGATES.

The dire straights to which the democracy of the county is reduced is forcibly illustrated by the attempt in the Jackson caucus to gag delegates to the county convention by a pledge to support the nominees in toto. This is the most sweeping, high-handed proceeding ever tried by a political party in Amador county. It has neither reason nor precedent in its favor. The object of the move is apparent. There were probably some named in the delegations to be voted for who had particular friends or relatives who were likely to be nominated on the republican ticket. Ties of kindred would naturally bind them to these more strongly than the mere ties of party politics would incline them to support the county nominees of democracy. So this scheme to pledge them to the ticket in its entirety was cunningly devised to either bar these men from the convention, or cause them to abandon their friends at the behests of partyism. It failed, as it ought to have failed. The fact is, taking part in a political convention imposes no moral obligation on the delegates to vote a straight party ticket. If that were true, the straight-laced, vote-for-a-yellow-dog class of politicians would be eligible to enter a nominating convention. A political organization that endeavors to strike at the freedom of the citizens at the ballot-box must be about at the bedrock of political degradation. The game did not work; but all the same it shows the drift of events with the rule-or-ruin element in the camp of the "terrified." The only pledge that can be legitimately demanded by a nominating convention is a pledge from the candidates to support each other. This is absolutely necessary for mutual confidence and protection, and should be insisted upon in every instance. A nominee who plays the traitor to his comrades on the ticket cannot be tolerated in any organization. Beyond this, however, pledges are only devices to lure the citizen from the plain path of duty and patriotism. When party leaders resort to such tactics it is about time for right-thinking men to invite them to a back seat in political councils. They are counsellors for evil, who would play the role of wreckers in order to gain their selfish ends. Steer clear of them. They have outlived their usefulness.

MALICIOUSLY FALSE.

SACRAMENTO, August 10.—An employee of the state of California by the name of George Dunlap has been discharged from a position which he has held for many years because he made the declaration that he did not think Henry T. Gage should be nominated for governor. Dunlap is a prominent republican of Amador county, and is a member of the republican county central committee. Dunlap was in charge of the live stock at the Preston School at Lone. He was discharged one week ago by Rev. Dr. Reddick, superintendent of the school. Rev. Dr. Reddick is an appointee of Governor Gage and a neighbor of his at Downey, in Southern California.—S. F. Chronicle, Aug. 11.

The above statement as to the cause of Dunlap's dismissal was first published in the Lone Echo. The local paper, issued almost under the shadow of the school, ought to know whereof it speaks before making a charge of such a serious nature. Hence the damaging report has been allowed to pass unchallenged. On the eve of the primaries the same charge is re-vamped in a special dispatch from Sacramento to the Chronicle, the evident purpose being to prejudice the voters against Gage. The item is held up as a sample of the methods resorted to by those holding appointive offices to promote the renomination of Gage. Being suspicious of these tactics the editor of the Ledger called up Superintendent Reddick and asked him if there was any truth in the report so far as the cause of Dunlap's discharge was concerned. The answer was a decisive denial; that Dunlap's removal had not the remotest bearing upon his individual views about Gage's candidacy. We deem it our duty to give publicity to this repudiation, in order to clear the management of our reform institution of the charge of being governed in the selection or discharge of employees by such unworthy and paltry motives.

JOHN F. DAVIS FOR GOVERNOR.

Ada B. Campbell, the Copperopolis correspondent of the Calaveras Chronicle, mentions our townsman, Hon. John F. Davis, as an available candidate for governor in the following vigorous style:

Voters of this senatorial district and of these mountain counties are you asleep? Why don't you announce your candidate for governor and stay with him until he is nominated and elected? You can do it if you will. Right here among us is a man who would honor that high office as it has never been honored since California became a state; a lawyer of profound erudition, a statesman and orator with few equals and no superior, and more than all else an honest man. A man who if elected will keep inviolate his oath of office and obey the law by making the capital of the state his residence during his term of office. The governorship belongs this time to northern California. The state of California in general and this section in particular, owe it to themselves, and to this peerless native son, to make him governor. I nominate Hon. John F. Davis of Calaveras and Amador for governor. He will carry the republican standard to victory.

His Sight Threatened.

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. Kerr's Pharmacy, Jackson.

John F. Clute was in Jackson yesterday. The republicans have been locking up an available candidate for county clerk, and turned to him to lead them out of the wilderness. The suggestion took him unprepared, but after consultation with his friends, he concluded to travel to Jackson and look over the situation for himself. He was accompanied by Gus Grillo, who carried the primaries in township three as an indorsement of his aspirations for supervisor. Both men are fast friends notwithstanding their recent trial of strength at the polls. Young Clute was not on the look-out for the clerkship, but like a true republican and patriotic citizen he says if the party desires him he will accept the nomination, and use his utmost exertions to win.

An effort was made during the week to induce L. Oettinger, of Knight's foundry, to take the nomination for sheriff on the republican ticket. The effort proved unavailing, however. Republicans are still working on the problem, and Fred Jackson, the fearless messenger on the lone and Sutter line has been mentioned. It is hoped that by the time the convention meets tomorrow the matter will be straightened out, and that the strongest ticket ever put up by the republican party in Amador county will be nominated.

THE result of the primaries throughout the state has mixed up the situation considerably. Neither the Gage nor the anti-Gage forces have scored a sweeping victory. Gage has evidently secured more delegates than either of his opponents, but not a clear majority. By combinations he may be able to win the nomination. If the anti-Gage element will hold together they can certainly defeat him. It is very doubtful if they can work together for this end. Gage seems to have the best of the situation.

Their Secret Is Out.

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it.—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength, of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. A neatly executed plan of the proposed new brick M. E. church of Jackson may be seen in the show window of Freeman's variety store. Such a building would cost something like $5000. It is understood, however, that the edifice will not be started until the money needed to pay for the same, or the greater part of it at least, is subscribed.

Hon. W. C. Ralston, assemblyman of Calaveras county, and candidate for the senatorial nomination in this district, was in Jackson Monday, giving the glad hand to his many friends. He has no opposition in his senatorial aspirations, and will undoubtedly be elected. The only aspirant on the democratic side so far named is L. Tulloch of Angels, who was the democratic opponent of E. C. Voorheis when he ran for senator.

Dr. T. B. Freshman and Mr. Peters of Amador City were in Jackson Monday. The former is a candidate for the republican nomination for coronor and public administrator. He is at present the only aspirant for the position. W. E. Roberts of Sutter Creek, who appeared before the convention four years ago for this office, has stated that he is not a candidate, thereby leaving the field clear for the Amador City physician.

The republican caucuses in the several precincts of Jackson, passed off very quietly. There was no jar nor friction whatever. There was really no question introduced that was calculated to interfere with harmonious action. The Gage or anti-Gage matter was not brought up, although it must be admitted that there is a strong sentiment on this subject. The feeling in some quarters is strongly against Gage. It is noteworthy, however, that this feeling is not based so much on the record of Gage as governor. They take no stock in the charges of the Call, regarding them as the desperate efforts of a disgruntled, unscrupulous and malicious newspaper to defeat the candidacy of Gage by any means in its power. The gubernatorial squabble has been kept in the background in the selection of delegates to the county convention, and it is very improbable that it will be ventilated in any manner on the floor of the convention.

D. Calvin, proprietor. j13-14

In another column we publish the candidate's card of D. A. Patterson, who seeks a renomination on the democratic ticket for county recorder. Everyone knows Dave; he is the one man in office who commands the well wishes of all, notwithstanding his long term of public service. Republicans do not anticipate winning this office, but nevertheless we are in favor of filling the ticket, even though the nominee stays at home during the campaign as the democratic candidate will undoubtedly do. We do not want to see a vacancy on the ticket if there is any chance to make it complete with suitable material.

Jack McCutcheon, of the Jackson shoe store, has about completed arrangements to purchase the large stock of goods now contained therein, together with the business, from the proprietor, W. L. Johnson, of Woodland. He went to Woodland two weeks ago to arrange about the terms. Mr. McCutcheon has been in Jackson not quite two years, and in that brief time has built up a profitable business in his line. Mr. Johnson is also the proprietor of a large shoe store in Woodland, and has bought for the two establishments. While this is an advantage in some respects, it is a disadvantage in others, as the commercial interests and topographical conditions of the two places are widely different. For this and other reasons McCutcheon is desirous of getting the business into his own hands, so that he can purchase direct from manufacturers, and thereby secure what is suitable for the trade here. He expects to have everything completed in a few days.

RUN OVER AND KILLED

Ernest Cuneo Thrown from Loaded Wagon and Killed.

One of the saddest accidents we have had to chronicle happened on Monday last on the road above the Oneida mine. John Cuneo that morning started from the ranch of his father, Charles Cuneo, which is located above New York Ranch on the intermediate road. The boy driver is only fourteen years old, careful and capable as a teamster. He was driving a team of two horses, as gentle as could be found anywhere. He had made several trips delivering wood with the same team. He had a younger brother named Ernest, over 20 years of age, who, childlike, wanted to accompany his brother. The mother to gratify him, consented to his going with Johnny, to see his father, who is driving the delivery wagon for A. Chichola. They started merrily Monday morning, the wagon loaded with wood, for the Oneida boarding house. They took the ridge road, and everything went smoothly until they left the main road and turned off to the Oneida valley. Near Ledoux's place, going down hill, the younger boy seemed to have some difficulty in keeping his seat. Johnny noticed him apparently in the act of sliding off, and made an effort to grasp him. The result was he lost his balance, and both fell off in front of the wagon. The wheels passed over both of them. Ernest was crushed about the chest, breaking the ribs, and forcing them upon the vital organs, inflicting injuries from which there was no hope of recovery. The older boy had his right leg badly fractured below the knee, by one of the wheels passing over.

The accident was witnessed by persons at the Ledoux residence. No jolt or chuckle caused it. The horses were not frightened in the least either before or after the misfortune. As soon as Johnny realized the situation he managed to crawl to the fence and called for assistance. The two Ledoux boys responded, and both victims were conveyed to the Ledoux dwelling. Drs. Goodman and Lewis were summoned from Sutter Creek, but it was evident that Ernest was mortally hurt. He lived only three hours after the accident. The parents were notified, and hastened to the scene, and reached there in time to witness the last moments of the boy who had left home so joyously only a few hours before.

When his parents arrived Ernest had control of his senses, and conversed quite freely, although suffering greatly. He often asked how his brother Johnny was getting along. His last words were "How is Johnny?" and expired, his parents being at his bedside.

The fractured leg of John was set, but it was deemed inadvisable to attempt to move him from the Ledoux place. He was still there according to last accounts, and doing as well as could be expected.

The remains of the victim were conveyed to the home of the sorrowing family. The funeral took place Wednesday, services being conducted in the Catholic church by Rev. J. J. Gleeson. The entire community in the neighborhood of the stricken family testified their sympathy by following the remains to their long sleep in the Catholic cemetery.

Alleged Attempt at Poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blackman of Lancha Plana, were in Jackson yesterday. They say that the conditions in the little burg of Lancha are by no means as assuring as they ought to be. An unfortunate and deplorable condition of affairs still exists there, and Mr. and Mrs. Blackman have reached the conclusion to sell out their property in the village and move away. To this end they advertise their property for sale in another column. They relate in all seriousness a story of attempted poisoning which, to say the least, demands a full investigation at the hands of the authorities.

Mrs. Blackman, during the hot weather, has been in the habit of putting the milk for domestic use in the safe under the kitchen porch. Mr. Blackman told her that under the circumstances it might be dangerous to do so. On the 29th of July the milk pail was hung under the porch, which is within a few feet of the fence, and easily accessible. Mr. Blackman usually takes a cup of milk at his meals. On the morning in question, he soon realized that the milk had a peculiar taste, and being suspicious that it had been doctored, he refused to drink it. He merely tasted it, but did not take enough to do him harm. Dr. Marsh, however, was called, and after tasting the milk, at once came to the conclusion that it contained strychnine. The milk can was thereupon analyzed, with the result that it was found to contain sufficient of the poison to kill every living person in the village. Such a reign of terror, if one-tenth of the stories afloat is true, ought to be looked into, and that without delay. The presence of Mr. and Mrs. Blackman in Jackson is mainly for the purpose of consulting an attorney to see if something cannot be done for their protection.

Republican Delegates Elected.

The delegates elected to the republican county convention in the various precincts at the primaries held on the 12th instant are herewith published as far as we have been able to ascertain them. There was no contest except over the supervisor situation in townships 3 and 5. In township three the forces of John F. Clute and Gus Grillo, both of Volcano, and candidates for supervisor, were lined up for battle. The adherents of Grillo came out victorious, with a vote in Volcano of 30 for the Grillo ticket, against 23 for the Clute ticket. In Pine Grove also the Grillo ticket won, and the two towns elect enough delegates to insure his nomination.

In supervisor district five, F. B. LeMoine, present supervisor, won easily, the delegates standing, so it is claimed, 8 to 1. His renomination is therefore assured.

Following is a partial list of delegates:

Could Not Register.

Chris Hanson, the stage driver on the Ione and Jackson line, tells a remarkable story in regard to a futile effort on his part to get registered. The incident serves to illustrate the lameness of the present law which permits the county clerk to appoint all registration officers from the same political party. Hanson is in the employ of the United States as a mail carrier, and the law is that a man does not lose nor gain residence by reason of such service. He has registered and voted in Ione for years. He sleeps in Jackson, but the stage goes at such an hour in the morning as would preclude his voting, and returns to Jackson after the close of the polls. For this reason he has claimed his residence in Ione. A few days ago he applied to the registration officer in that town to get on the register. J. Surface proceeded to make out the affidavit, and while so doing J. W. Surface appeared and told him he had better see C. L. Culbert, the county clerk, on the subject, conveying the idea that he had no right to register in that precinct. He was not registered. Hanson is a republican.

The funny part about it is that Ralph Sutton, who is a democrat, and who is also a stage-driver between Sutter Creek and Ione, and who sleeps in Sutter Creek but has voted in Ione, found no trouble in registering in South Ione precinct, where he voted at the last election, as Hanson did also. Here is a clear-cut inconsistency, and the only explanation we know of is that one is a republican and the other a democrat. What authority has a deputy register to interfere in any way with a citizen who appears before him to make an affidavit of registration? The one who is doing the swearing takes the responsibility therefor, and not the officer before whom he makes the affidavit.

Boxing Contests To-morrow Night.

The Jackson Athletic club has arranged to give another boxing contest in Love's hall on Saturday evening next—republican convention day. The boxers for the main bout are Frank Rafael of Amador City, the victor in the previous fight with Kane, and Joseph Butler of San Francisco. Butler came up from the city Sunday night to train for the set-to. Several interesting preliminaries have been arranged to take place as follows: Dal Porto vs. Dal Porto, 4 rounds, both of Jackson; Brown of Electra vs. Cardella of Jackson, 5 rounds; Soldier Walker of Sacramento vs. Joe Reay of the Olympic club of San Francisco, 5 rounds. There will no doubt be a large attendance at the exhibition. The club is doing its utmost to promote legitimate sport, and furnish amusement for the people.

MINING NEWS ITEMS

Some Good Ore Found at the Bottom of an Abandoned Claim.

CENTRAL EUREKA.—This mine has declared a dividend for the past month of 2 cents per share, amounting to $8000.

HOFFMAN.—At this mine, which adjoins the Argonaut on the south, and which is owned by W. F. Debert, a tunnel is being run from a point below the road to tap the ledge which the underground developments from the Argonaut shaft have proved to exist at the depth of 1400 feet. W. J. Nettle and George Troyan are engaged in this work. They will probably have to run several hundred feet before cutting the quartz, the croppings of which show strongly on the surface.

BOYSON.—Dr. Thomas Boyson has been prospecting for several weeks on a quartz claim near the Butler ranch, on the outskirts of Plymouth, and only a few feet from the main road. He started a couple of men to work to clean out a forty-foot shaft, on information that pay ore existed at the bottom. The reports of rich rock left in the bottom of abandoned claims are usually untrustworthy. In this case, however, the report proved to be true.

One showing free gold has been uncovered, and the doctor, who is the sole owner, is elated over the prospect. The community hopes the strike may meet its utmost expectations. He has spent a fortune in mining in that vicinity, and no man is more deserving of success than he.

DEL MONTE.—The secretary reports the operating expenses for July amounted to $1239.87. The main tunnel was advanced during the month 80 feet, the entire length of this tunnel up to Aug. 1, was 243 feet. Fifteen feet of upraise was run on the west drift in the old 200 foot tunnel level, encountering widening formation, and increased width of ledge matter, with good values. Work will be continued on both these levels, as before; the work on the crosscut will be continued with the power drills as long as the water company is able to supply the water. If this source of power is suspended, work will be continued with hand drills, until the fall rains enable the company to return to power drilling.

HORN.—Further reports from this mine are of the most encouraging character. The ore-body has widened out to four feet, and all of it carries good values. G. W. Horn, the superintendent, returned from San Francisco last night, where he attended the annual meeting of stockholders. He reports that the directors have ceased offering the stock for sale on the outside. Whatever stock has to be sold hereafter to pay running expenses will be taken by the present stockholders—those who have furnished the money to carry the property to the present bright outlook. The stock has heretofore been selling at 10 cents per share. It is now worth 25 cents, and none offering at that price. Samples of ore sent to San Francisco are estimated to carry values running up into the hundreds of dollars per ton. Mr. Horn will go up to the mine to-morrow, and push the tunnel as rapidly as possible into the Horn ground. The face is yet 40 feet from the line. From indications on the surface the ore shoot is several hundred feet in length.

The Ninth Celebration.

The Native Sons are getting things into shape for a grand celebration on admission day in Jackson. The various committees are hard at work, the object being to present a program which from the standpoint of pageantry, literary merit and amusements, has never been equaled in the county. One of the novelties proposed is a balloon ascension by one of the noted aeronauts of the state. It will be the largest balloon ever seen here, and the daring aerial navigator is expected to descend from a height of 4000 feet. Other unique features will be set forth hereafter.

Prof. Frank Hamilton, the noted balloonist, has been secured to make the ascension. He has posted a forfeit and signed a contract to ascend to a height of not less than 4000 feet, and make his jump from a parachute from that elevation.

D. A. Ryan of San Francisco, has been secured as orator of the day; W. H. Heffron of Ione, has been selected as marshal, and Clarence Jarvis of Sutter Creek, as president.

Garden Bazaar.

Ministers must live. In order that they live, their salaries must be paid; to pay the salary, money is necessary; to acquire the necessary money to pay the salary of the Jackson Methodist minister a grand garden bazaar will be held at the residence of Mrs. S. J. Clough, Broadway, on Monday evening, August 18, 1902. Ice cream, sherbet, cake, enchiladas, tamales, coffee and doughnuts "like mother used to make," will be daintily served by a bery of attractive young ladies. A poster booth and a novelty booth will be in session; at these the latest attractions may be found. Come early and bring your appetite. Bring your best girl and her appetite. All edibles guaranteed. During the evening the Jackson band will discourse most melodious harmony, which will make digestion easy and generosity a pleasure.

The supper march was formed about twelve o'clock, led by the charming couple, Miss Maeme Doman and Trevor Weston. After refreshments the band again made known its presence, then our boys saw that the girls arrived safely to their homes. All were glad that they attended.
